... Respondents

Ordinarily, the writ petition ought to be dismissed in default in view of the absence of the learned counsel for the petitioner. Even otherwise, the writ petition is liable to be dismissed in view of the nature of the relief sought for, namely to continue the petitioner till she attains the age of 60 years. In paragrah 3 of the affidavit filed in support of the writ petition, the petitioner averred that she would complete the age of 58 years on 30.11.1998. A perusal of the record reveals that there is no interim order in favour of the petitioner, continuing her in the service till she attains the age of 60 years.

In view of these facts, no relief can be granted to the petitioner, as she was evidently retired on attaining the age of 58 years on 30.11.1998.

The writ petition is, therefore, dismissed as infructuous.
